

First Mission in Okanagan will be restored

Foundations are important things, and no one recognized it better than Father Pandosy when he laid down the specifications for the first permanent dwelling in the Okanagan Valley in 1860. Shown here is Jim Knowles, president of the Kelowna Historical Society, pointing out the foundations on the original mission building.

Native stone was gathered and in an excavation about two feet deep these stones were chinked with clay and laid to a height flush with the ground level. The first timbers were laid on top of these stones. The timbers are today in excellent shape, and the original clay still holds the stones in bond.

Peter Mattioda, a farmer of the Mission Creek area, is showing just how big those original timbers in the Oblate Fathers Mission really were. Peter can't quite span this one with both hands, for, in fact, it measured 17 inches. Timbers were cut from the original logs with only hand and broad axes, with perhaps a rough plane for finishing. Note the dovetailed joints and the extremely fine workmanship. The timbers are six inches to seven inches thick, and square-cut.

Cows and Old Father Time are slowly nibbling away at the old mission buildings built in 1860. Now used as a stable, the picture shows the east wall of the original boarding house, where Father Pandosy's work crews lived. This wall is nearly worn through by the nibbling of the cows, in spite of the fact that the original timbering is between six and seven inches thick.

Move underway to restore Roman Catholic Mission established here in 1860

By DOROTHY GELLATLY

The property on which the first Roman Catholic Mission was established in 1860 has been purchased by Phil Lyman, of Kelowna, and plans are being made to restore the buildings and preserve the site of the old mission cemetery.

Mr. Lyman has agreed to sell two of the 34 acres he has purchased to the Roman Catholic Church after conferring with Father O'Grady, who is in charge of Indian Missions from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island.

An effort also is being made to locate the grave in which Father Pandosy was laid after his sudden death in 1891.

Foundation and timbers of the mission are in excellent shape. It is at present being used as a stable.

The coming to the Okanagan of the Oblate Fathers, in the new world, of Immaculate, resulted from trouble between the Indians in Washington territory and the American soldiers.

Charles John Felix Adolph Pandosy, who was to become Father Charles Marie Pandosy, was born near Marseilles, France, on November 21, 1824, the son of a land-owner.

With Father Pascal Ricard, Superior of the group, the party left Le Havre in February of 1847, and Charles Pandosy was posted to Yakima, where he was later ordained. From the records, it appears that Father Pandosy favored the Indians against the American soldiers, and as a result he was banished from the area. Seeking sanctuary with the Jesuits at Colville, Fr. Pandosy later received word from Bishop Modeste Demers, of Vancouver Island, to establish a Mission at Okanagan. Broken-hearted at the thought of leaving forever his beloved Yakima, he nevertheless had no choice but to follow instructions.

In October of 1850, after months of negotiations and delay, Fathers Pandosy and Pierre Richard met at "L'Anse au Sable," and chose a place for their Mission in "a great valley situated on the left bank of Great Lake Okanagan, and rather near the middle of the lake."

"L'Anse au Sable is the largest valley of all the surrounding country," and "the cultivable land is immense."

BUILT MISSION

Apparently it was not until 1860 that they pre-empted land on the bank of what was to become known as Mission Creek. Here they built a church, a school and other mission buildings, and carried out their duties of converting, baptizing, teaching, healing, marrying and burying among their far-flung flock. In a parish that included Billmear and as well as Okanagan, Father Pandosy became an outstanding figure, travelling barefoot.

$259,000 school vote on Saturday

Ratepayers of Kelowna School District No. 23 will signify on Saturday whether or not they approve of the proposed bylaw to raise $259,000 for school purposes in the district. Those eligible to vote are those persons who own property between Peachland and Oyama, including the City of Kelowna.

The money that will be borrowed, if the bylaw passes, will be used to construct or reconstruct a new elementary school in Westbank, $65,000; an elementary school at Lakeview Heights, $26,000; Kelowna junior high school, $87,500; Westbank high school, $82,000; Westbank industrial arts shop, $2,500. Furniture and other equipment for the new school facilities will cost $11,000 while plans and supervision will amount to $13,000 and $11,000 is placed in to meet contingencies.

Crowded classroom conditions, unsatisfactory sanitary conditions and other factors tending to reduce the efficiency of the school plant are the reasons behind the presentation of the bylaw.

A bare majority of those voting is all that is required to pass as the voting is a referendum and does not, as in some cases with money bylaws, require a percentage higher than a bare majority.

Mayor J. J. Ladd thought there would not be an appreciable increase until the property was built up.

Ald. Bob Knox was a few minutes late for the meeting, and was not present when Mr. Markle expressed his views. Mr. Knox gave the reasons for the proposed extension, and added that taxes would not be increased unless property was turned over for retail store purposes.

Mayor Ladd and Assessor Markle interrupted Mr. Knox, the latter stating that taxes are based on assessed value of land, and the value is the amount paid for property.

"If the assessed value of land goes up, taxes would be increased," he said. Very apologetically, Knox admitted not having gone into full details with the assessor.

Opposition voiced over extending city retail area

Opposition to the proposed extension of the city's retail trading area was voiced at a public meeting held in council chambers Monday night.

Main objection was possible increase in taxation. Proposed amendment to the zoning bylaw called for the extension of the retail trading area to include the north side of Harvey Avenue from Ellis to the lane east of Abbott. North side of Lawrence Avenue east to Bertram Street would also be included in the new trading area.

Objectors claimed there was ample property in the present retail zone for business expansion.

CONFLICTING VIEWS

Two conflicting views on the possible increase in taxation were expressed. One of the first questions asked by Roy Owen, Harvey Avenue resident, was whether it would make any difference in taxation of residential property. City Assessor J. E. Markle replied that this would depend on the demand for property. "It's hard to say. The greater the demand, and the higher the price, the more it would be."

Mayor J. J. Ladd thought there would not be an appreciable increase until the property was built up.

Heated discussion takes place at municipal meeting at Peachland

(By Courier staff reporter)

PEACHLAND—Charges and counter-charges along with the disclosure that an invitation had been sent to a government official, B. C. Bracewell, to investigate municipal affairs in Peachland municipality, highlighted a public meeting held here last night.

Two councillors, Mrs. Lillian Ayres and Frank Khalembach, who resigned from the municipal council, gave their reasons for tendering resignations. Five people are running in Saturday's by-election to fill the vacant seats. They are Frank Bradley, Cecil C. Highway, Frederick Ivor Jackson, Robert Allison Lloyd-Jones, and John Henry Vokes.

Mrs. Ayres charged that the municipal clerk, Chesel R. Haker "dominates" council discussions and that gravel was hauled by a contractor before a contract had officially been awarded. Mr. Khalembach said that he had been "excluded from council affairs," and that municipal affairs were handled directly without going through council. Heated debates developed during the three-hour meeting.

Meeting was called primarily to discuss the proposed bylaw to purchase an asphalt mixer to pave the four-mile stretch on Princeton Avenue.

Mr. Haker explained that money to buy the initial equipment was on hand, and had been idle for at least five years, and that the department of public works has the other necessary equipment, which would be available. He pointed out that if the municipality owned its own mixer it could not only pave Princeton Avenue, but would have the mixer on hand to repair breakups.

He assured the audience that "an average farmer or householder whose home is not now either over or under the average assessment in Peachland will have no increase in taxes to finance the roads," and that under the equalization assessment act if the assessment does go up, the mill rate will go down proportionately.

Opposition centred around the point that buying the mixer and paving the road would be a waste of time and money if the road was not properly prepared for a hard surface, and that the cost of the project—$24,000 spread over six years—would inevitably result in a rise in taxes.

He quoted the cost of paving as $3 for oil, $1.50 for gravel, and $1.75 for labor, totalling $6.25 per cubic yard.

Voting on the by-law will be taken at the library in the municipal hall on Saturday.

SCHOOL BYLAW

After discussion on the roads project, had closed, school trustee John Cameron briefly explained that Peachland would carry two percent or about $1,600 in the proposed school loan bylaw to borrow $259,000 for new schools and improvements. He said that the money would be spread out over 20 years, breaking down to about $153 a year for principal and interest.

There was no discussion. After a few moments of debate as to whether the resignations of Mrs. Ayres and Mr. Khalembach should be brought up at the meeting, Mrs.

Mr. Winter will fill the unexpired six-month term of General Keller. He captured 64.4 per cent of the vote; Mr. McLaughlin received 34 per cent, while rejects amounted to 1.4 per cent.

Bed for everyone

"A bed for every visitor." That's the slogan being adopted for the Kelowna Regatta August 11-14.

Mayor J. J. Ladd and council approved council's request that a special appeal be made to home-owners to open their doors to anyone unable to obtain hotel or auto court accommodation.

Ald. Dick Parkinson said similar steps are taken every year by Calgary during the Stampede, with the result no one goes without a bed.

That the Peachland tax sale lands monies bylaw was pushed through without a hearing by the ratepayers.

That she opposed the three-mill rise in taxes for road paving and requested a "ratepayers meeting for full discussion with no success, it being the determination of the backers of the bylaw to pass the same without holding a plebiscite, but when the bylaw was amended so that it would be submitted to Victoria with a request for a plebiscite, I voted for it."

"When I went on the council I was of the opinion that we had a

A referendum will be placed before Kelowna ratepayers at the December civic elections to determine whether they favor the present centre street lighting, or if the lamp standards should be moved to the sidewalk.

Lengthy discussions took place at council meeting this week as a result of three lamps being sheared off during the last two weeks. Damage runs around $970.

Meanwhile, council agreed that replacements in future will be of the two arm mercury vapor horizontal lamp standard. This type of standard costs $550 against the present cost of $450 for the mercury vapor vertical pole.

Ald. Dick Parkinson said the lights should be moved to the sidewalk or a continuous ramp be constructed, down the centre of the street. Kelowna is one of the few B.C. cities with centre street lights.

City Engineer George Meckling pointed out that it will be necessary to install new underground wiring if the poles are removed to the side, while retail stores with canopies stretching to the edge of the curb would be left in the dark under the coverings.

Mayor Jack Ladd said that in the three recent cases where standards have been sheared off motorists have been negligent.

CABLE EXPENSIVE

Ald. McMeikle was opposed to removing the standards, pointing out it would cost a lot of money, and that the sidewalks would have to be widened. "Underground cable is expensive construction," he said. He too thought a dividing curb should be placed in the centre of the street if the present standards remain.

Meanwhile it was agreed that the two-arm mercury vapor standards would be replaced on intersections as the poles are knocked over. Through a process of elimination, the entire street would eventually have the same type of standard.

Newly-organized Kelowna Aqua Ski Club elected officers at a meeting held in the Aquatic lounge Monday evening. Shown in the above picture is the new executive. ## Stock car racing officially gets underway this week-end Thrills and spills aplenty are scheduled for Sunday when nine entrants in the Kelowna Stock Car Club's first derby will roar down the new speedway at the foot of Knox Mountain at 3:00 p.m. Time trials start at 1:00 p.m.

Mayor J. J. Ladd will officiate at the ceremonies, driving the first racer on the track.

At a meeting held Monday evening 30 club members polished off the final details. A stock car parade Saturday at 4:30 p.m. will lead off from the Adams Garage and proceed down Bernard Avenue on the way to the speed trials in the evening at 7:00 p.m.

NAME NEW TRACK

Club president Ted White announced that there will be a season ticket given away to the spectator submitting the best name for the new track. Further details will be available in the programs at the track.

Paul Kilborn has been appointed referee for the speedway, while Ray Barber is pit boss.

Track grading has been completed. It measures exactly 1/4 mile on the inside fence, and has a regulation 40 foot width, with banked corners at the turns. Clendering and oiling is being completed, to eliminate the dust hazard.

The winter of Sunday's race will be in line for some nice prizes. Ray Rabone has advised that the club will be putting up a trophy to be awarded annually to the best car competing. Mr. Rabone emphasized that this is not necessarily the car winning the most races, but the one which turns in the best all-around performance, including such vital things as the time in the pits and smartness of crew and equipment.

It is understood that officials of the Digney speedway in Vancouver will be here Sunday to assist local officials in getting the "hot rod" races underway. They include a starter, referee, flag man and pit boss.

There are only half a dozen other centres in B.C. where regular stock car races are held.

Boxla banter

By AL MEARNS

If last Thursday's game is any indication, the Kelowna Bruins have finally overcome the last-period jinx which has been dogging them all season. As the final bell sounded, the Bruins were running roughshod over the Kamloops Klippers and had chalked up their second win of the season in convincing fashion.

The line composed of Cliff Serwa and Howie Carter, centered by veteran John Ritchie, is really flying high, garnering over thirty points in the last two games, or an average of five points per player per game. Carter had a five-goal spree against Vernon Wednesday night, followed by a four-goal effort on Thursday. Serwa was the outstanding star in Bruins' first win, and also scored four goals on Thursday. Not bad, for a couple of kids just out of juvenile ranks. Their efforts in the past few games have placed them among the top ten league scorers, while John Ritchie has jumped into third spot.

Stu Robertson, after signing with Kelowna, came under considerable pressure from Vernon sources and was released at his own request so that he might play with Vernon. The moral of this story might well be, "Never underestimate the power of a woman!"

Tonight, in Memorial Arena, the Bruins tangle with the young, hustling Salmon Arm Aces. The last meeting of these two teams was a 7-6 thriller, with Salmon Arm scoring the winning goal with just 20 seconds to play.

Local golfers stand good chance in Ogopogo tourney

It won't matter whether they're from Eniwetong or Enderby, there'll be some tough scrapping to take the Ogopogo Open away from the local boys this year, according to word circulating around the dressing rooms at the Kelowna Golf and Country Club.

Club pro Dave Crane has been saying glowing words about many of the club members, such as Gary Fuder, Sam McGladery, David Dale, Monk Steele, Pete McNaughton and Joe Mildenberger, all entered from the Kelowna club.

Just go up to one of these fellows and whisper the word "Open" in his ear, and he'll turn round, fix you with a glassy stare, and growl: "Don't you know YET, it's NOT open, it's closed to Kelowna, and I don't mean close to Kelowna either."

And with all this local talent all primed for the first drive, they're not kidding, either.

Just take Monk Steele for instance, not that he's necessarily better than the other boys, but with all that practice he's been getting, he'll likely finish well on top.

Monk has some big ideas for the future, and a pretty impressive record behind him. Though he did not take up golf until he was 28, Monk has twice won the McEwen Cup at the Kelowna Club... won the Clear Lake Riding, Mountain National Park Tournament in 1946... won the Pro-Amateur at the Clear Lake course playing against such notables as Les Bevin, Danny Stack, Harold Ideswig and Howie Bennett... was club champion at the St. Charles Country Club in Winnipeg... made the Niakwa Club team at the Niakwa Country Club in Winnipeg twice... entered and qualified at the Canadian Open at Niakwa in '47... won HBC trophy in Penticton in 1950... won Revelstoke Labor Day Tourney two years ago... runner-up in the interior closed at Revelstoke this year.

So-o-o-o, on July 30 when the drivers and the iron stars ring out the tune that unlocks that $650 in prize money, Monk will be right in there sticking with the best of them.

From a woman's angle

By JAN CLARK

By the time this paper is off the press, a pretty, outwardly-poised young lady will be seated in a plane travelling to a strange city nearly 3,000 miles from her home, headed to probably the most exciting—and most gruelling—experience anyone could ask for.

Just a year ago another girl was doing the same thing—heading to Eastern Canada to represent Kelowna in the Miss Canada Pageant. We all know that Kathy Archibald took the title, and that might make Linda Ghezzi's nervousness even greater.

As the girl chosen Lady-of-the-Lake at last year's Regatta, Linda automatically became the girl to represent the city at the pageant, to be held this year at Windsor.

And the sponsoring Jaycees enlisted the help of the city, the Board of Trade, the Regatta, and the Kiwanis to raise $475 for plane fare, clothes and expenses for Linda's trip.

Early this morning Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Ghezzi drove Linda to the airport at Penticton, to catch the plane leaving at about 8:15.

The 2,000 miles between Kelowna and Toronto will be covered by 10:50 p.m. and Linda will be met by Kathy Archibald at Malton airport, just outside of Toronto. The couple will then drive to Hamilton.

In Hamilton, Linda and Kathy will spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. S. Radcliffe Weaver, leaving Sunday for Windsor. Mr. Weaver is executive director of the Miss Canada Pageant.

Once in Windsor, Linda will have a busy time, most of it spent in a blinding limelight.

On Monday, she and the other contestants will meet the directors at an evening reception. Tuesday will be taken up with press receptions and TV interviews. Lunch with the judges on Wednesday, at which time the girls will be keenly watched for manners and poise.

The first rehearsal for talent will be held Wednesday evening.

Thursday and Friday the preliminary judging will take place, and the finalists chosen for the big show Saturday night, when Kathy Archibald will place the crown on her successor, Miss Canada 1954.

Linda has chosen a white formal, which she will wear during her 'piano monologue', a recitation of 'Jealousy' by A. P. Herbert, to which she will play an accompaniment on the piano.

She is still trying to choose between a white and black bathing suit, but expects she will decide on the black one.

LINDA GHEZZI

Linda will have plenty of competition at this year's pageant. The limit is 40, and she expects that the limit will almost be reached.

Regardless of whether or not she wins, she and Kathy will leave Windsor on July 28 to drive back to Kelowna in time for the Regatta, where Linda will officiate as Lady-of-the-Lake.

In the fall she plans to enter second year arts at UBC, majoring in music and physical education, with the hope of being a teacher. For the past year she has been teaching music, mainly piano, for her parents, where Linda will officiate as Lady-of-the-Lake.

As Kelowna's representative, Linda may be confident that she is accompanied on her trip with the best wishes and solid support of her home town.

PAT HUME NOT COMPETING
Meanwhile, it has been learned that Pat Hume, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Hume, 765 Lawson Avenue, will not be competing in the contest.

Several weeks ago it was announced that Miss Hume would be representing the City of Winnipeg. However, in a letter to her parents, Miss Hume explained that she is at present under contract with the Winnipeg Ballet, thus making it impossible for her to take time out to compete in the contest.

Pen pals of 15 years standing meet here

Pen pals of 15 years' standing, recently met for the first time in Kelowna.

Mrs. John Lang, of London, Eng., accompanied by her husband, and two children, came direct to Kelowna at an invitation extended by Mrs. L. W. Hooper, 413 Patterson Avenue.

The friendship started in 1939, when Mrs. Lang was going to England. One of her school friends received a letter from her cousin in Canada, and Mrs. Lang casually remarked she wished she had a pen pal in Canada. Her friend promptly made the necessary arrangements through her cousin.

The family arrived here about two weeks ago, and would like to stay if Mr. Lang could obtain suitable employment. He is classified as an "unqualified" drug store dispenser, but would be willing to accept any clerical job.

"We don't want to leave, but it may be a case of necessity," remarked Mrs. Lang.

Justweds travel to Victoria and U.S.A.

Beverly Jean Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Woods, 1850 Knox Crescent, was united in marriage with Raymond N. Busch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Busch, 799 Sutherland Avenue, in the Church of Immaculate Conception the morning of July 3, with Rt. Rev. W. B. McKenzie officiating.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a floor-length gown of French net, with side panels of embroidered net, with bouffant skirt, strapless bodice and long-sleeved jacket of embroidered net. Her finger-tip veil of lace applied net fell from a mohair braid cap, with orange blossoms. She carried a prayer book with pink rosebuds and stephanotis.

MATRON OF HONOR
Matron of honor, Mrs. Gerry Tutt, sister of the groom, was clad in a dress of apple green lace and net over satin with matching headpiece. Both carried bouquets of gladioli and carnations.

Best man was Mr. Ernie Busch, brother of the groom, while Gerry Tutt, Mr. Tat Moss and Mr. Walter Morth ushered. Soloist Mr. Ed Matthe sang "On This Day," and "Ave Maria."

Mr. A. Gladwick, of Vancouver, was master of ceremonies at the reception held at the Aquatic Club, with 53 guests. Toast to the bride was proposed by Rt. Rev. McKenzie, answered by the groom, and Mr. Ernie Busch toasted the bridal attendants.

Following the reception the couple left by car for a honeymoon trip to Victoria and the United States, the bride clad in a navy blue and white dress, with white accessories. On their return they will live at 2220 Pandol Street.

Bluebird briefs

These are dog days for C.A.R.S., as for everyone else. Organized activity has been suspended for the summer months. Nevertheless it is business as usual for our busy little physiotherapist. By the way, she looked most fetching at the Aquatic dance the other night! Fewer patients are under treatment at present, but Dagne Macgregor reports that she is visiting eight patients in the familiar Bluebird car, while 20 come twice a week to the hospital clinic. Mrs. A. Connolly, one of our patients, is responsible for the bright, new yellow cubicle curtains which enhance the clinic treatment room.

A familiar face is missing from the clinic and C.A.R.S.'s office in the health centre these days. Mrs. Aileen Foote, our bright and popular secretary, is nursing an injured leg, as the result of an accident, and is learning to hobble around with a cast. A speedy recovery, Aileen!

We talked to a woman yesterday who is very grateful for the Bluebird ministrations. Stricken with arthritis for the first time six months ago, Mrs. John Buwick of 787 Coronation Avenue, was unable to move without help. Soon her doctor's medication was supplemented by regular physiotherapy treatments, in her own home at first, then later at the clinic. Now she is able to walk all the way down town, and even home again sometimes, and expects to be off treatment entirely before long. She says that most of the credit goes to Dagne. We know that her good Scotch sense of humor and perseverance paid off too!

Mrs. E. Hare substituted for Mrs. J. W. Hughes last Monday in driving patients to and from the clinic. We think that they have really found an "angel" in Mrs. Hughes for whom nothing is too much trouble. Her latest project is a tea planned at the Hughes' ranch, about which, more and more, speaking of driving, we would like to hear from anyone who would be willing to take a carload for a drive these beautifully sunny afternoons. Just call 2125 and we'll arrange it most gratefully.

The draw which was to have taken place at the end of July has been postponed until August. Everyone is so busy with Regatta work. So don't throw those tickets away!

UNTIL next time,
YOUR BLUEBIRD REPORTER.

BENVOLIN—You're never too old to fly. Robert Spall, of Vileford, Suffolk, Eng., not only agrees that the "iron birds" have cut distances to a mere fraction of yesteryear, but he also likes speeding along at 300 mph plus, thousands of feet above the Atlantic.

Eighty years of age, Mr. Spall left England on July 3 at 5:00 p.m. to visit his brother Jim Spall, of Benvoulin. At 2:00 o'clock the following Monday, the plane touched down at Vancouver International airport.

Local water ski club formed here

At a meeting in the Aquatic lounge Monday evening, potential water skiers laid plans for the club's summer activities, with Jim and Colleen Crossen being elected president and secretary, respectively.

Other executive members elected were Basil Melkie, Peter Ryalence, and Miles Traggold.

WESTERN MEET

Discussion centred mainly on affiliating the club with both the Canadian and American water ski associations. The club will be host to competitors from the Pacific Northwest when the Western Canadian Water Ski Championships will be run off on the first day of the Regatta. Dr. Lou West of Seattle, former Pacific Coast open men's champion, will be chief referee and emcee, and Miss Carol Ann Duthie, of Toronto, present holder of the Canadian open water ski championship, will be a competitor.

The best type of equipment for beginners, also drew considerable discussion. Anyone now possessing water ski equipment is requested to contact any member of the club, or the Courier sports department. Club members were offered the services of the Kelowna Yacht Club, and free gas will be available, for a time at least, for power boats.

Jim Crossen would like to draw everyone's attention to the fact that the next meeting, originally scheduled for the Aquatic Lounge at 8:00 p.m. Monday, has been changed to the Regatta Office, at the same time. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

News and views of scouting

by DES OSWELL, District Scoutmaster

ALONG THE WAY

According to the pattern of the Scout program a boy joins the Wolf Cub Pack when he is eight and goes up to join Scouts when he is twelve. This is the common world-wide practice. Now, this very excellent plan actually goes one step further. This third step is seldom publicized.

When a Scout is sixteen he can join a Rover Crew, which in a sense is senior Scouting. This group is dedicated to the service of others. For some strange reason, in a district of our size, we do not have a Rover Crew. It is time we did. Let us try to encourage the formation of a Rover Crew. Let us try to guide the old Scout into a Rover.

When your troop goes to camp this year you will encounter a lot of experiences which will be well worth telling in the Scout News and Views column. I hope you will remember to hand them in.

Good Camping and Good Scouting.

OTTAWA—Mary Theresa O'Farrell, pioneer newspaper woman and artist who died at age 90, painted scenes that are hung in a number of Roman Catholic churches and convents here. Native of Montreal she was on the editorial staff of the old Ottawa Free Press years ago.

Mrs. "Mac" Black left by car on Monday for Vancouver, where she will spend a brief holiday.

Miss "Bobbie" Pritchard, youngest daughter of Mrs. M. E. G. Pritchard, arrived home from Toronto Monday, after a year spent in the eastern city. En route home Miss Pritchard spent a short holiday in Jasper.

Mrs. C. D. Dobbin, with Ronnie and Wendy, are spending this week last Saturday after several weeks at Adams Lake.

Discouragements so oft arise
That seem to blur
Our azure skies,
Just like the clouds
no often do
That keep the sun from shining through,
But soon the clouds
will disappear,
And then again the skies are clear.
So if such clouds
obscure your way,
Remember, clouds don't

replied Mr. Knox. He added that it is not desirable to have retail stores overlooking the park.

Another taxpayer, P. Daum, Lawrence Avenue, said he had no objection to the retail area being extended on the north side of Lawrence Avenue to Bertram Street, "providing promises are fulfilled."

Mr. Daum referred to the fact that Super-Valu had not chained in the parking area after business hours. He complained over cars taking short-cuts through the parking lot late at night.

Jack Gordon, manager of Super-Valu, said he was in agreement in putting up chains, but he failed to see how the area could be closed in, as a lane enters the parking lot from the east. "If someone cared to take the risk of putting up chains, I'll be glad to do so," he remarked.

USED CAR LOTS

The discussion then went back to additional used car lots in the city. Remarked Bill Maguire, "It looks to me the property on Harvey Avenue is being rezoned to satisfy one car company, whether they applied before or after the zoning amendments." He thought there were many vacant lots in the business section which could be used for used car lots.

Ald. Dick Parkinson remarked the question of rezoning is to "protect the majority." He refuted the insinuation that council had any knowledge "myself and I think the majority of aldermen" that there was any property transaction pending. The reason the matter came up was that an application had been made for a service station on the south side of Harvey and Pendzoi. The main reason was to "square off the retail section" he said. He added that the property next to the Kelowna Club will shortly be used for a new structure.

"Possibly we are looking too far ahead, but that is why the meeting is called," he said, adding that the appeal board takes into consideration what property is available for retail outlets.

Mr. Owen agreed that eventually Harvey Avenue may be rezoned, but at the present time, he thought it was a premature move.

The decision now rests with the city council.

LIKES KELOWNA

Compliments to Kelowna are frequently heard, during the summer months particularly. An advance publicity agent for Clyde Beatty Circus is the latest to join the ranks. The lady in question informed The Courier that "Kelowna is the prettiest little city I have seen in all my long travels. That takes in thousands of miles all over North America."

When I became aware that gravel was being sold I had quite a struggle to get any information and then when I brought the matter up in council meeting, after inducing the clerk to produce the outline of a contract that had been granted, we finally approved it, as we had no choice, the company already being in there and hauling. Voting has been most irregular."

Later she added that she wished every one to understand that she did not oppose the paving of the road, but opposed not bringing it up before the public. "It had to be forced," she said.

COUNCILLOR EXCLUDED

Mr. Khalembach said that he had not been considered as a councillor, that he had been excluded from council affairs, that municipal affairs were handled directly without going through council. In conclusion, he said "if we stand for the same council any longer we will find the municipality in a very bad position—we're going to be in debt."

Clerk Haker then read a letter from B.C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs, which indicated that letters had been received from both the former councillors alleging that property had been sold and money spent without the approval of council, and that if the change was substantiated he would look into it. BURIED AT MISSION
Borne in state about the S.S. Penticton, Father Pandosy's body was carried to the Mission, and laid in the graveyard beside the church he had established thirty years before.

Though his grave is not marked, and no one knows its exact location, Father Pandosy's name is remembered in the street, and the ferry, which bears his name. Though the spelling of his name has become corrupted through the years, it still bears some similarity to the name of a man who was beloved of all who knew him.

LAST WEEK OF CAMPAIGN

St. John Ambulance drive behind $1,000 objective

For the first time within memory (almost), Kelowna gives every indication of falling flat on its face in the matter of a drive for funds for a worthy cause. According to campaign chairman C. D. Gaddes, the St. John Ambulance campaign to raise $1,000 is "very disappointing."

The drive is now in the last week and only $200 have been subscribed by the entire Central Okanagan.

Mr. Gaddes points out that half of this amount was subscribed by one community-minded firm, but the business generally, as yet, have been unresponsive to the appeal.

"This," Mr. Gaddes says, "is rather surprising as Kelowna has always done so well for any worthwhile project. Surely, St. John Ambulance is one of the most worthy causes that we are asked to support. We are only asked for $1,000 in the entire district and this is actually only a token sum to acknowledge the debt of the community to the organization for the benefits of many years received from this very humane endeavor.

COURSES HELD ANNUALLY
"Annual courses are held under Fred Gore at the fire hall over a six-month period each year. St. John Ambulance has been responsible for the training of hundreds of local persons in first-aid practices. These people are working in our plants and businesses and are always ready to assist in the event of an accident. They are a tremendous asset to the community."

"Moreover there is not a single large gathering held here which is not attended by St. John trained men. At the Regatta, for instance, St. John men are on constant duty."

"St. John also equips and maintains highway first-aid posts, two of which are in this district. St. John men have contributed to the saving of lives and reducing suffering of many accident victims on highways in our own district. They will be active at the Regatta this year and are continually giving assistance to accident victims in the bush, sawmills, orchards and packing plants."

Yet Kelowna seems to be turning a deaf ear to the appeal for funds to keep this service going.

ACTION REQUIRED
"I do not think, Mr. Gaddes said, "that the small response is a deliberate one. I feel that many firms and many individuals intend to send donations but have just not done so. Good intentions are not action. It is action that is required. I would appeal to the individuals and the business people of the whole Central Okanagan to take action now. This is the last week of the campaign. Your support is vital. The cause is a worthy one and the community is the beneficiary."

"Who knows but it may be the people in YOUR car—or even you—who will depend tomorrow on the skill of a St. John Ambulance man to save their lives? It is possible. Please write that cheque—now."

As Mr. Gaddes pointed out, cheques or cash should be mailed or left with G. Day, campaign treasurer, Bank of Montreal, Kelowna.

Artist's conception of new library

Tenders for the proposed Okanagan Regional Library, to be constructed at the corner of Queensway and Ellis, will be opened by the library board next Thursday, according to library chairman, W. B. Hughes-Games. Deadline for tenders is next Monday.

Total cost of structure, including architect's fees is estimated at $50,000. Provision has also been made for a city library in the new structure. It is hoped that a contract will be awarded immediately, if tenders are in line with the estimated cost.

PARENTS JOIN IN FUN

Seventy-five intermediate girls from Vernon to Summerland enjoying stay at Anglican camp

WESTBANK—Seventy-five intermediate girls from Vernon to Summerland are spending this week at the Anglican camp at Wilson's Landing, ten miles north of the ferry on the west side of Okanagan Lake.

The camp proved to be a popular rendezvous for parents and friends of these girls last Sunday, when many picnic parties were seen scattered along the beach and on the open grounds above, joined at suppers by those girls who received permission to enjoy supper with their families.

A feature of the afternoon was the initiation service conducted by the Rev. L. A. C. Smith, of Vernon, who is the clergyman in charge of the camp, he and Mrs. Smith holding a place in the hearts of the youngsters as the camp's "father" and "mother."

Assisting Mr. Smith was Mrs. N. Solly, of Summerland, camp director, and taking part in the impressive candle-light service held among the trees before the outdoor altar, were the girls who were spending their first time at camp, and also those who have attended in other years.

Mr. Smith told his congregation groups of the boys attending, in that the act of each girl lighting large numbers.

her candle at the "master" candle on the altar, was the symbol of lighting one's candle with the true light of the world—Christ, and he impressed on the girls the need, on returning home, of each one lighting her little corner of home, parish and country.

Following the service the girls disbanded for their swimming period before supper, after which there would be a campfire on the beach; then bedtime, and "lights out" about nine o'clock.

LARGE CAMP
The Anglican Camp at Wilson's Landing covers more than 100 acres, and, being the site of an old relief camp, the buildings on it have been utilized as dormitories, kitchens, dining hall, office, canteen, etc. All ready $40,000 of the $90,000 purchase price has been paid, and many improvements have been made since the camp's first year of operation seven years ago.

A start has been made with the installation, in time for this year, of toilet and washroom facilities, served by a pump and reservoir which supplies running water for these modern advantages. A well-built wharf allows space for diving-boards and for many other uses, including the mooring of boats, and Sunday this wharf was crowded with parents and others who eagerly watched the progress made by the youngsters in their swimming and diving.

SWIMMING INSTRUCTION
Junior, intermediate and senior instruction and tests are given in swimming and diving, and also given are instructions in life-saving and artificial respiration.

A lifeguard is a member of the staff's camp, and these advantages, plus the adventure of camp life, all are provided to those attending at a nominal cost. A nurse and a cook also are members of the staff.

The day starts early, with the option of a dip or swim before breakfast. Camp leaders attend service in the chapel before breakfast, and if the weather is fine, the outdoor chapel is used, with the chapel building reserved for days when the weather is not suitable for open-air services.

After breakfast comes the time to do dishes and other chores; then kitchen duties during which the girls help make preparations for lunch. Tidying the various camps or dormitories comes next, after which there is another swimming period. Following the lunch hour there is a rest period, followed by the opening of the canteen and a free time during which swimming, games and so on are enjoyed. After supper there is a chapel service, and before bedtime the girls gather round the campfire once more.

ROAD IMPROVED
The road from the ferry to the camp has been widened and improved during recent years, so that now the most timid of drivers need not fear the drive. Topping a rocky bluff beyond the camp buildings and the chapel stands a slender white cross which may be seen among the trees by those wandering through the camp grounds, and also from the lake.

Senior, intermediate and junior girls enjoy camp life during July, while August will see various age-

Mrs. R.J. Cooney of Winfield passes away

Mrs. Rachael Jane Cooney, of Winfield, died at the Vernon Jubilee Hospital on Wednesday, July 7. Mrs. Cooney was born in New Cambria, Macon County, Missouri, USA, on December 18, 1870, coming to Canada with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Beck, in 1878, to settle in the district of Gladstone, Manitoba. In 1890 she married William Thomas Cooney, of Fergus, Ontario, who died in 1944.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooney lived in Manitoba in the Gladstone, Keyes and Killarney district before the family moved to British Columbia in 1929.

Mrs. Cooney was widely known and noted for her kindness and hospitality. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church and later of the United Church of Canada. She was widely read and keenly interested in world affairs and conditions, and maintained her interests until her last illness.

Mrs. Cooney is survived by five sons, Wilbert J., of Neelin, Manitoba; Francis H., of Vernon; C. M., of Winfield, with whom Mrs. Cooney has resided; William L., Vancouver; Bryan, of Okanagan Centre, and three daughters, Mrs. Isabel Long, Okanagan Centre, and Mrs. Ella Sneesby and Birdena, both of Winnipeg. Besides her immediate family, Mrs. Cooney leaves three sisters, Mrs. T. H. Dunn, and Mrs. J. N. Fryday, of Winnipeg, and Mrs. F. H. Poole, of Vancouver, and one brother, James Beck, of Edrass, Manitoba. Also Mrs. Cooney leaves an aunt, Mrs. Birdena Pyle, of Bethany, West Virginia, eight grandchildren and four great grandchildren. ### Clark Gable refuses double in 'Mogambo'

Clark Gable found himself in an unenviable spot during filming of one thrill scene of M-G-M's adventure drama, "Mogambo," filmed in Africa, at the Paramount theatre Friday and Saturday.

After observing the remarkable spear-tossing accuracy of the Belgian Congo natives appearing in the Technicolor production, Director John Ford inserted a new sequence into the film. In it, Gable was chained to a wall while the natives, all members of the Wagania tribe, tossed their sharp spears at him.

Gable, refusing the use of a double, stood against the wall of a native hut in the Tanganyika jungle while more than 30 spears were tossed at him. So accurate were the natives that not one of the spears touched the star. In the sequence the weapons were supposed to circle his body—and that's exactly what they did.

Bills marked
"PLEASE REMIT"

Most people have had a bill sometime, bearing the words, "Please remit by return mail." And many of us have not always been able to send payment by return mail. A large unexplained bill, or a lot of little ones, can often cause this to happen. Most people don't realize that all they need to clear away their debts is time, yes, time to spread the payments into future pay envelopes. A friendly loan gets you a lump sum of money, with which to pay your bills. You then have time to repay, with payments you can handle more easily. It's a simple way to get back on your feet. Friendly loans up to $1500 from Niagara are life-insured at no extra cost to you. Besides, on many friendly loans, the rates are lower. If you need money why don't you give yourself time to pay by arranging a Niagara loan. We'll be glad to see you... so just drop in.

French Prime Minister Pierre Mendès-France has returned to Geneva determined to fulfill his pledge to bring peace to Indo-China by July 20, or resign. Restrained optimism both in conference circles at Geneva and at Paris suggested he had a good chance of success provided, western sources say, that the Communist delegation display a conciliatory attitude.

Before the full ministerial sessions of the nine-nation conference resumed, Mendès-France planned private talks with foreign ministers Molotov of Russia and Eden of Britain. Ceasefire plans have been drafted for all three Indo-China states—Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia. These were drawn up by meetings between French officers and the respective Indo-China and Vietnamese forces.

According to reports from Paris at the week-end, all that was needed for a cease-fire was agreement at the top level on where the truce line should run between the 14th and 18th parallels in Viet Nam.

MENACING RING
A French high command spokesman at Hanoi said 70,000 of the Communist-led Vietnamese rebels were massed around Hanoi, waiting and waiting. The Communists had declared they would occupy the key city of northern Indo-China by July 14, France's historic Bastille Day.

A few days ago French planes were bombing the rebel plucers less than 25 miles from the city. At Singapore, military observers assessing reports reaching that Asian listening-post, said five Vietnamese divisions were in positions from which they could launch an offensive. These observers were surprised that the Vietnamese so far had not made a major move to cut permanently the road and rail link between Hanoi and the port of Haiphong.

At Saigon, a spokesman for Gen. Paul Ely, the French commander in Indo-China, said he was holding off any evaluation of civilians from Hanoi until he learns whether an armistice will be signed at Geneva. Citizens of the menaced city however were flying out daily. The principal airline announced all seats on planes for Saigon had been reserved until July 27.

Adding to the troubles of the besieged city was an influx of refugees from the Red River delta. A mounting stream of refugees poured into Hanoi in the wake of the French withdrawal from the southern sector of the delta. It was estimated that Hanoi's normal population has been swelled by perhaps 100,000 refugees.

AUSTRIAN FLOOD DISASTER
Disaster teams aided by American soldiers intensified their efforts to rescue hundreds of families marooned by floods raging over Austria and southern Germany last week. At least 13 persons were known dead and scores of others were missing. More than 20,000 persons had been evacuated from farms and villages over-run by the swollen Danube and its tributaries. Two cities—Passau and Linz—were partly under water.

ASSINIBOINE FLOODS
The flood waters of the Assiniboine River dropped two inches last Saturday as the worst seemed to be over in the water-logged northern outskirts of Brandon. About 60 families had been forced to evacuate their homes when the rain-swollen stream broke through dikes at three points.

The river level on Saturday was 22 feet above normal, two inches below the flood crest recorded last Thursday. City Engineer George Durin said he expected the river level to drop steadily until a flood crest arrived from the tributary Qu'Appelle river, sometime this week.

Some wells in the region were contaminated by the flood and plans were made for setting up water tanks in the north end to supply drinking water. Police patrolled the area to prevent looting of vacant dwellings.

LONG RIDE OVER
Four years after she started for Canada's capital from Buenos Aires, Ana Beker last week rode her horse into Ottawa. Bronzed by the sun during her 17,000-mile ride, Senorita Beker swung tired legs to the ground to receive the greeting of a crowd waiting outside the embassy.

While two aldermen held her mounts—she rode one, packed belongings on another—the 36-year-old horsewoman talked briefly with reporters through an interpreter. In fluent Spanish she made it clear that she was tired, especially of horseback riding. She achieved her objective, however—to demonstrate that women can reach any goal they set their minds to. Finances for her trip originally came from Eva Peron, the late wife of Argentine president Juan Peron. Friends and organizations en route added more funds.

MEAT BUYERS STRIKE
British housewives did a lot of shrewd window shopping, and at the end of the first week of ration-free meat they had emerged victorious in a unorganized buyers' strike.

The women admired the beautiful steaks which dealers, freed of government control for the first time in more than 14 years, displayed on their counters. But with prices generally double what they were in rationing days, women were buying little meat.

As a result, hundreds of tons piled up in the shops and by the week-end prices had tumbled to levels in some cases lower than those prevailing in the years of government regulation. Some merchants who had counted on a rush for meat lost money.

One butcher in Paddington said he made a "lousy window display of lovely meat with price tags attached. I watched the first 14 women who took an interest. Thirteen turned up their noses and walked away. One came in and bought a kidney. That's no way to run a butcher shop, and I guess the ladies have won."

Canada's 57,000-man militia is being reorganized. Changes in the reserve army announced by Army headquarters sweep away some famous fighting units, and high officers said they expect cries of rage from some sections of the country.

The reorganization follows adoption by the government of recommendations prepared for the defence department by three reserve force major-generals, H. F. Letson of Vancouver, E. J. Renaud of Montreal and Howard Kennedy of Ottawa. The militia itself agreed to the principle of reorganization but had not been previously informed of which units would be disbanded or amalgamated with other units.

In the original announcement a few weeks ago Brooke Claxton, then defence minister said, "The changes proposed are planned to tap the resources of interested and available personnel so as to provide the best basis for the build-up of forces that may be required in the second or later stages of another world war."

MORE EFFECTIVE USE
"The over-all number of units will be substantially reduced. It is expected that at the outset these changes may result in some reductions in the total number of officers and men on strength. But it is expected that they will result in more effective use of personnel."

With the latest announcement, officers explained that militia units are being tied more closely to the regular force. For instance, some infantry regiments will form reserve battalions for active force regiments such as the Canadian Guards and Royal 22nd Regiment.

The changes are designed so that, in the event of mobilization, reserve units would be able to supply replacements to regular force units. Canada would have mainly an infantry army able to move rapidly and with strong firepower support from tanks and artillery.

Among unit names well-known to Canadians that will vanish are the Cape Breton Highlanders, North Nova Scotia Highlanders and Pictou Highlanders. They will be merged to form the 1st and 2nd battalions of the Nova Scotia Highlanders, a new regiment with headquarters at Amherst and Sydney, respectively.

The Carleton and York Regiment, the North Shore (New Brunswick) Regiment and New Brunswick Scottish will be amalgamated to form a new regiment of two battalions to be known as the New Brunswick Regiment (Carleton and York) at Saint John and New Brunswick Regiment (North Shore) at Bathurst.

In Quebec, Les Voltigeurs de Quebec (motor) and le Regiment de Quebec (mitrailleuses) at Beauport will be merged under the name les Voltigeurs de Quebec (mitrailleuses). Les Fusiliers du St. Laurent at Rimouski and le Regiment de Montmagny will amalgamate under the title of les Fusiliers du St. Laurent (6th battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment).

Le Regiment de Levis will disappear when it is absorbed by le Regiment de la Chaudiere at St. Remi.

In Ontario the Oxford Rifles at Woodstock and the Canadian Fusiliers (City of London Regiment) (machine gun) at London will be merged under the title of the Canadian Fusiliers (City of London) (3rd battalion, Royal Canadian Regiment) and converted to an infantry regiment.

The Highland Light Infantry of Canada at Galt will absorb the Perth Regiment at Stratford, and the Essex Scottish at Windsor will absorb the Kent Regiment. The Duchess of Kent will inspect the Kent Regiment during her Canadian visit late next month before the unit is disbanded. The Ontario Regiment (11th Armored) at Oshawa will absorb the Midland Regiment at Port Hope.

Prairie Command will lose one infantry regiment—the Winnipeg Light Infantry. It will be absorbed by the Royal Winnipeg Rifles. Western Command also loses one infantry regiment—the South Alberta Regiment. It will be replaced by the 15th Alberta Light Horse (26th Armored).

Okanagan Centre

OKANAGAN CENTRE—Staying with Mrs. B. Cooney for several days are Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McConnell, of Vancouver, who came in on Thursday to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Rachel Cooney. Also at the Cooney home is Sharon Cooney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Cooney of Vancouver, who are staying with relatives in Winfield.

For the same funeral, guests in the home of Mrs. Long were Mrs. George Reeve and Marie, granddaughter and great granddaughter of Mrs. Cooney, of Edmonton, and another granddaughter, Mrs. W. Gillard (Lorraine Long) of Sumnerland.

Mr. B. Cooney is at present receiving medical treatment in the Vernon Jubilee Hospital.

Holidaying for this week at the Hawkey Camp at Carr's Landing are Mavourneen Cooney, Mary Evey, Louise Gabel, Judy Hunter and Loretta Lukowsky.

Mrs. E. F. Drought, of Westbank visited the home of her son, H. Drought, for most of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Fewell have for their house guests for the summer the latter's sister, Mrs. B. Hicks, and her granddaughter, Phyllis Walling, of Epping, Essex, England.

Mrs. Hicks and Phyllis, on landing at Quebec, stopped for a few weeks for a visit with the Fewell's elder son, who is stationed there as a squadron leader with the RCAP.

Of interest to a number of people in the Centre who made the acquaintance of Mrs. H. Drought's brother, Victor C. Moore, when he visited her several years ago, is the news recently received that he has been appointed as Charge d'Affaires to the Canadian Embassy in Vienna, where he will move shortly from a similar post with the Embassy in Bonn.

The swim classes organized by the Centre Women's Institute, open to all the children of the neighborhood, started this week with Mrs. G. Snowdon teaching. There will be sessions for boys on Mondays and Thursdays, and for girls on Tuesdays and Fridays, beginning at 2:30 p.m. each day, the teacher will take beginners first.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker of Merco, Alberta, with Mrs. Dehmke, Sr., the latter's mother, motored to the coast last week for a ten-day visit with relatives.

RUST ENDANGERS CROPS

Prairie grain crops are showing sharp variations in development and rust now is emerging as a danger. With the western crop delayed by heavy rain and cool weather, wheat varies from 24 inches in height in some areas to just emerging in others, the bureau of statistics reported.

Rust is appearing over wide areas, particularly in western Manitoba and central and northeastern Saskatchewan. The bureau said: "In view of the lateness of season there is more than usual concern about potential damage from this source, particularly if weather conditions continue to favor rust development. A period of warmer weather is urgently needed to hasten crop development."

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lamb
Women's Travel Authority

Small fry actually make the best travellers if their comfort needs are anticipated.

Follow for each child, for instance, is handy for naps and as a booster to see out of the window. Many children need a blanket to help them fall asleep.

While "dress-up" clothes may make you nag them about wrinkling their finery, simple, comfortable garb will add to everybody's peace of mind. And scolding for crawling over the upholstery can be avoided if you cover the kiddies' shoes with an old pair of socks. Or, in warm weather, just remove their shoes and let them frolic.

On twisting highways, drive especially slowly. A succession of swift turns can make the child car-sick. Bring along his favourite toys, but be sure he gets only one at a time to sustain their novelty during the trip.

Those sudden hunger pangs can be eased if you keep a small basket filled with crackers, raisins, fruit juice or other snacks within reach. Incidentally, a well-known cure for bedtime crankiness away from home is -- an extra dose of attention at day's end.

GRAND FALLS, Nfld.—Two Calgary girl cyclists—Ruth Holman and Ruth Moore—arrived here after pedalling from Vancouver,

ONE YEAR AGO

Bill Mitchell was elected president of the Kelowna Lion Club at the annual election of officers. Dr. Walter O'Donnell was chosen vice-president, while Murray Conklin and Jack Rick were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

A 1953 automobile went up in flames when fire destroyed a combined garage-sawdust shed at the home of D. LaGreca, 662 Bay Avenue.

An impressive ceremony took place in the East Kelowna school grounds where a blue spruce tree was planted to commemorate the coronation of the Queen.

The four years of hard work in guiding for Louise Goldsmith, of the First Okanagan Mission Guide Company, was climaxed when she was presented with the highest award attainable in Girl Guiding. Mrs. W. R. Neblitt of Toronto, deputy chief commissioner of Canada, made the presentation of the Gold Cord to the 14-year-old Guide.

10 YEARS AGO

The B.C. Woodworkers Local No. 4 received official certification from the Department of Labor at Victoria that it is the bargaining agent for the employees of the S. M. Simpson Ltd., Manhattan plant.

Sunday, June 11, was a successful day for Kelowna golfers, when the Interior Golf Championships were held here. Players from Kamloops, Vernon and Kelowna took part.

By a recent order-in-council, saw-mill operators have been forbidden to use wood for fuel in a sawmill or shingle mill burner. In addition, mills cannot destroy any waste or by-product of the mill which is capable of being used for fuel.

20 YEARS AGO

The Kelowna Branch of the Canadian Legion was represented at the convention of the B.C. Provincial Command, which was held here at Portland, Ore., by G. N. Kennedy, president; O. L. Jones, J. Gible and Harold Bourke.

According to the enthusiastic opinion of the judges, J. Tait and E. H. Bennett, of Summerland, the display of roses at the Spring Show of the Kelowna and District Horticultural Society held on June 9, was the finest they had ever seen in the Okanagan. The showing of the flowers was affected to a considerable degree by the early season and high temperature, and many spring varieties were past their prime.

The leading features of the Rutland Rally Day sports were the keenly contested baseball tournament for the Lloyd-Jones Cup during the day and the big dance in the Community hall in the evening.

The Associated Growers announced that the apples from the "Gruncum Orchard" Glenora, had the highest grading of any of the orchards in the Kelowna district.

About two hundred Rotarians from points in Washington and British Columbia visited Kelowna on the occasion of the annual International goodwill meeting held for the primary purpose of promoting good feeling between people of the two great nations on the North American continent and to gain a better understanding of each other's problems.

30 YEARS AGO

The level of Okanagan Lake was 100.9. By agreement reached the previous year, it was to be kept not above 102 and not below 99.5, if possible.

Work in connection with the construction of the Kelowna-Naramata road was begun at both ends, the sum of $10,000 having been authorized for that purpose.

All the independent fruit shipping firms were represented at a meeting of the Fruit and Vegetable Shippers' Association of B.C., which was held in Kelowna when the following officers for the year were appointed: President, Leopold Hayes, Kelowna; vice-president, A. J. Finch, Penticton; secretary-treasurer, W. E. Adams, Kelowna; executive, E. W. McDonald, Armstrong; E. C. Skinner, Vernon; W. F. Walters, Summerland; H. Armstrong, Keremeos.

The members of the Kelowna Rowing Club contributed $50 towards the expenses of the Vancouver Rowing Club's Olympic crew. The money was raised by private subscription.

At a meeting of the City Council it was decided to pay ordinary unskilled labor at the rate of thirty cents per hour.

Kelowna opened the cricket season on June 9 by defeating Vernon by 88 runs to 59. The Kelowna baseball team did not fare so well, meeting defeat at the hands of Vernon by 9 to 4.

At a meeting of the war canoe crew, held at the city hall on June 9, the following officers were elected for the season of 1954: president and acting manager, George S. McKenzie; vice-president, F. M. Buckland; captain, Max Jenkins; vice-captain, Claude Newby; secretary and assistant manager, R. E. Dehnison; trainer, H. L. Willis, E. Bailey and A. Cail; committee, the officers with L. Watt and S. A. Wade.

Kathy Archibald gets big ovation at Stampede

Kathy Archibald, Kelowna's Miss Canada of 1953, got a great ovation at the Calgary Stampede when introduced to packed galleries in the grandstand and later at the Corral. The latter, an ice-palace of palatial design and home of the Stampede hockey club, was hosting the Sonja Heine ice show at the time. Miss Archibald has returned to Windsor, Ont., where she will take part in the crowning ceremonies of Miss Canada of 1954. She will be back in Kelowna in time for this year's regatta.

WARNS BOAT OWNERS
PETERBOROUGH, Ont.—Theft of a 25-horsepower motor from a boat tied up at a wharf here brought advice from Inspector of Detectives William Clarke, that boat owners must take every precaution if their craft has to be left unattended. Many such incidents occur every summer, he said.

Oyama grower Theodore Gorek found answer when 1949-50 freeze wiped out peach crop

OYAMA—Theodore Gorek, a resident of Oyama for the past 14 years, did not let the big freeze of 1949-50 "get him down."

True, a two-acre peach orchard was wiped out by killing frosts. As he removed the blackened trees and prepared to replant the peaches, an idea was born.

He would plant strawberries between the orchard rows. Today, nearly four years later, he admitted there was very little difference in the financial returns of berry or peach crop.

In August, 1950, Mr. Gorek planted a "nice crop." Today the 12,000 strawberry plants of the plants are at their prime, and he Marshall variety, obtained in Kelowna. He later increased his planting to 19,000 units.

In 1951 Mr. Gorek admitted he with 130 to 140 berries to a plant.

r.p.m.'s column

Selective deafness

I ran across an interesting phrase the other day: "selective deafness." It means the capacity to shut one's ears to the unpleasant.

The ostrich sticks its head in the sand when it does not want to admit that something is there; he refuses to see it. Selective deafness is the same applied to the ear.

I think, too, that some of us practice this selectivity with our minds. We close our minds to things that are distasteful to us. Even new ideas, sometimes!

There are many good examples of selective deafness. Most wives will probably say that their husbands are walking examples of it, as husbands hear only what he wants to hear. Many wives know that when she starts to take hubby to task for this or that, he automatically turns off his ears. She knows, too, that when she asks him to bring home this or that, or tells him that they are doing so and so tonight that he goes completely deaf.

Conversely, it may be that I am just temperamental but I find it very difficult to do any effective work in the office on a Saturday afternoon or a holiday. It is just too darned quiet. To work well—at the office—I want to hear the bang of a typewriter and the rumble of the presses downstairs. Contrarywise, when I work at home, I would like quiet. Silly, but there it is.

What, the corner of the phrase had in mind, however, was selective deafness with regard to radio. He is an American radio critic and was defending U.S. programs which as every Canadian knows are filled with monumental commercial drivel.

Anyone accustomed to programs that carry no advertising, he said, was driven out of his wits by American commercials. Americans themselves were unaffected because they simply turned off their ears. In this noisy age in which we live selective deafness is a necessity if one is to preserve his sanity. For instance, if you could not turn off your ears how in the world could you enjoy your meal in a restaurant where a juke box is braying its head off?

Actually, it is remarkable what a convenient instrument the ear is, and how fortunate, too. It can choose the sound it wants and ignore all others. People with apartments on street car lines or near railway tracks soon become accustomed to the periodic passing of the trolleys or the trains and are able to have a good, peaceful sleep. Those same people, however, remain sensitive to the slightest cough of the baby upstairs.

It takes practice to acquire selective deafness, of course. Even though wives believe that their husbands are born with it and employers think office boys are born with it and the employees are quite convinced that their employer was born with it when they start to hint around about a raise in pay.

In connection with radio, however, the gift is dangerous. As the American radio critic admits, selective deafness is largely responsible for the worst excesses of commercials.

Listeners have become so immune to nonsense the dosage has to be steadily increased if it is to be effective. And the result is mighty bad.

One might think that the commercials have reached their limit; it hardly seems possible to contrive new absurdities, eloquent though the language is and wide as the variety of sound is.

The critic seems to have overlooked one kind of deafness that can be selected by any irate listener unable to shut his own ear-valves. He can make himself totally deaf to commercials by simply turning the knob. And it would not surprise me if more and more people are reaching the stage where they do just that.

Mr. Gorek started to pick on June

The "Sovereign" on the other hand Mr. Gorek said, bears about 45 berries to a plant.

Further, the "Sovereign" is not popular with the consumer public any longer. Mr. Gorek declared, adding that the "Marshall" variety seemed to have all the answers; a fine, distinctive flavor, a sweet berry, and no seeds.

MAKE LAND PAY
"Growing berries is one way of making the land pay," Mr. Gorek declared. There was room, in his opinion, for more berry growers in the Okanagan.

The new peach trees are now four years old and 14-15 feet high. They appeared to benefit from the extra attention given to the acreage with its berry crop, including the odd fertilizing and more irrigation.

Mr. Gorek has a covering of about one and one-half inches of sawdust on the land. That kept the berries clean. "I never wash a berry. If you do, nature's protective covering of wax is destroyed."

BUDS NO TROUBLE
Mr. Gorek started to pick on June

7 last year, and finished selling on July 18. This year is later, and he began to pick on June 18. In 1953, his harvest averaged 400 crates per acre, with the average wholesale price (received by Mr. Gorek) of $3.75 per crate.

He reserves one patch where customers may pick their own.

It takes two days to pick the two-acre patch. On the third day, pickers start again. The crop is consigned to a firm of wholesalers, and he trucks in the crates fruit daily.

Mr. and Mrs. Gorek, with the assistance of two neighbors, pick the crop. At peak one of his pickers gathers 18 to 19 crates a day. Wages are 90 cents per hour.

Mr. Gorek operates a 20-acre orchard two miles from Oyama post office on the east side, next to the Tom Towgood property. This year, late frosts have taken their toll of tree fruits. For example, there are practically no cherries. There are apples, of course, but this crop varies from year to year. Berries seem a sure thing; "they pay labor and water" and bring in a little more besides. Mr. Gorek declared that up to troubled him.

First United double-ring ceremony weds Doreen Gordon to Michael Tait

MR. AND MRS. JOHN MICHAEL TAIT

First United Church was the scene of a double-ring wedding the evening of June 30, when Doreen Marion Margaret Gordon became the bride of John Michael Tait.

Rev. R. S. Leitch officiated at the rites for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Gordon and son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Tait, all of Kelowna. Both bride and groom are graduates of the University of British Columbia.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with baskets of roses, peonies and Ester Reid daisies, and the daisies, combined with fern, were used to mark the guest pews.

CHANTILLY LACE

The bride's gown was a floor-length model of white chantilly lace, nylon tulle and taffeta. The slim, long-sleeved bodice was topped with a scalloped stand-up collar, the skirt gracefully flaring, redingote style, to reveal a softly gathered skirt of nylon tulle over taffeta. A bandeau of pleated tulle and orange blossoms held her finger-tip veil of French illusion net, and she carried a cascade bouquet of red delight roses, white heather and stephanotis.

Miss Glenice Gordon, nurse-in-training at Royal Columbian Hospital, was her sister's maid of honor, and was gown in a floor-length dress of pale pink nylon tulle over taffeta, with bouffant skirt. A bandeau of tulle and chapel veil in the same tones completed her costume.

Mrs. James Ryder, the bride's matron, wore a floor-length gown of turquoise nylon tulle over taffeta with matching chapel veil and bandeau of tiny turquoise flowers. Both carried cascade bouquets of pastel gladioli.

Mr. Jim Cousins was best man and the groom's brother, Mr. Alex Tait, and the bride's cousin, Mr. Charles Duncan, were the ushers. Mrs. T. G. Crosby sang "I'll walk beside you" during the signing of the register. Mrs. H. Cowie was organist.

AQUATIC LOUNGE

At the reception which followed at the Kelowna Aquatic lounge, the bride's mother assisted in receiving the guests attired in a dress of navy tulle, with collar and cuffs of rose tulle, white hat and accessories and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother was dressed in a sheath model of navy sheath, accented with crisp white collar and cuffs, large white hat and a corsage of red carnations.

A white linen cloth, hand embroidered in purple heather, covered the bride's table, which was centred with the wedding cake, bedded in mauve tulle with sprigs of heather, and tall mauve tapers in crystal sconces.

The toast to the bride was proposed by the bride's uncle, Mr. D. K. Gordon. Telegrams of congratulation were received from Scotland, the U.S.A., Yukon and other parts of Canada.

CALIFORNIA TRIP

The bride donned a tailored suit of powder blue linen with white accessories, and a corsage of pink and white carnations for the honeymoon trip by car to California. On their return the bride and groom will reside in Kelowna.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Gordon of Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Duncan, Mr. Howard Duncan, Mrs. M. Owen of Penikese, Mrs. James Barclay of Calgary, Mr. Robin Harrison of Bloniel, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Tait of Vancouver and Mr. V. H. Reimers, Vancouver.

Kalamalka plans home-cooking sale

The regular meeting of the Kalamalka Women's Institute was held in the Oyama Memorial Hall on Thursday, July 9, with Mrs. Shaw-MacLaren, president, in the chair. At present the members are working on layettes to be sent to Greece in aid of the earthquake victims. Sufficient wool for eight blankets has been collected and sent to Fairfields to be made up into blankets for relief work. Plans are being made to have a home-cooking sale at the Vernon Fruit Union during the packing season. The next meeting will be held in the afternoon of October 14.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. J. Kornitsky and Mrs. W. Dungate.

Former Kelowna girl married in Kamloops

A former resident of Kelowna and Rutland, Jean Ritchie McDougall, daughter of Mrs. D. McDougall, 1094 Lawson Ave., and the late Mr. Dougald McDougall, of Rutland, became the bride of John Roy Livingstone, on Saturday afternoon, in First United Church, Kamloops, with Rev. A. Anderson officiating.

Hand-loomed white brocade material fashioned the classic sheath dress of the bride, and with it she wore a corsage of dark red roses. A small white cloth hat completed her costume. She was given in marriage by a friend of the family, Mr. T. F. McWilliams, of Kelowna.

Miss Donna Salle, the bride's only attendant, was charming in a sleeveless street-length dress in pale blue, with white accessories. With the costume she wore a corsage of pale gold roses.

BEST MAN

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Livingstone of Little Fort, B.C., was attended by his brother, Mr. McKenzie Livingstone, as best man, while Mr. David Livingstone ushered.

The reception and wedding luncheon were held in La Hacienda, where Mrs. D. McDougall, dressed in a two-piece costume of turquoise silk, with pink accessories and a corsage of pale pink roses, assisted in receiving the guests.

The toast to the bride was made by Mr. Volkmar Salle, of Little Fort.

Following the reception, the wedding party drove to Little Fort to an open-house, held at the home of the groom's parents, where friends and neighbors gathered to give the young couple their best wishes.

After a honeymoon trip by car to northern British Columbia the couple will live in Little Fort.

To marry in August

Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Lina, Glenmore, announce the engagement of their only daughter Josephine Magdalena, to son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Johnson, Vernon Road. The wedding will take place August 4 at 10:30 a.m. in the Church of Immaculate Conception, with Father Cunningham officiating.

HELLO FOLKS:

I've popped up again from the somewhat warmer depths of the lake and as usual have been spending some time looking over the stadium named after me. I was agreeably impressed last week to see both strange and familiar faces enjoying the improved facilities at the Aquatic.

You all know of Jane Stirling and the girls who work with her in teaching and guarding your youngsters at the Aquatic.

Did you know that Johnny Cameron is running classes three evenings a week to teach boys proper swimming techniques? Few of us realize we have a first class swimming coach, a prominent member of the Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club of yester-year and possibly still record holder for the Kitilano-English Bay swim, formerly an annual event.

I always like to see and enjoy Dr. George Athans and his proteges getting ready for the biggest regatta yet to be held in Kelowna. Did you see the spectacular diving Monday and Tuesday evenings? We are indeed fortunate to have divers of this calibre pay us a visit and lend their ability to our weekly water show.

LEGION PIPE BAND

I lifted my head one evening and heard the strains of bagpipes and beating of drums as the Legion Band marched through the park getting in a practice session.

I was gratified to see at the same time a colorful display of license plates from the other side of the border with a great many eastern as well as western states represented. There were also many more licenses from our own country, with almost every province represented during the week.

It did me a lot of good to see the mummies with their small offspring of under five years at the buddies' class on Wednesday at 3:00 p.m.

Mrs. Lillian MacKellar, who arrived a couple of weeks ago (as I told you), is certainly making things hum in the pool and I'm sure going to see a lot more of the synchronized swimming classes at practice.

I see as big a crowd as ever attended the dance last Saturday evening. I think you would enjoy visiting the Aquatic during the week as there is something inter-

Mrs. Gibson and Mrs. P. Wilsdon; Mrs. E. Crowder looked after the mystery parcel post, and Mrs. A. Beck the ice cream. Norma Jean Hitchman and Mona Edmunds assisted in the guessing contests on the weight of two boxes of candy, which were won by Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Hallam.

Mrs. Ray Cooney was solicitor for the guessing contest on the weight of a cake, which Mrs. C. Christian won.

Kitchen committee included Mrs. Goldie, Mrs. Gled, Mrs. Slater, and Mrs. Wentworth, while Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Cheeseman, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Land, Mrs. Brixton, and Miss Daphne Barneau were serviteurs.

BEG divers given rousing ovation.

Here are the four top-notch Canadian divers who will carry this country's colors in the British Empire Games in Vancouver later this month. They arrived here on Sunday and performed before 3,000 people Monday night and another 3,600 on Tuesday night. Before the final curtain came down on Tuesday night's Aquacade, they were given one of the greatest ovations ever accorded athletes in Ogopogo Stadium.

The quartet left Wednesday afternoon to return to Vancouver where they will continue training in preparation for the Games.

Patrick is the only one who has definitely made up his mind to return to Kelowna for next month's Regatta. Other members of Canada's BEG diving team are giving the matter careful consideration.

TRY COURIER CLASSIFIEDS

The largest crowd ever to witness a weekly aquacade, jammed Ogopogo Stadium Tuesday night, and gave Canada's four BEG divers the greatest ovation ever accorded athletes at the aquatic grandstand.

Orioles meet Elks Sunday at stadium

Kelowna Orioles and Oliver Elks meet in a regular Okanagan-Mainline baseball fixture this Sunday in Elks Stadium.

Orioles, in good trim following Wednesday's game against the Rutland Adanacs, will be out to keep in "the top three" standing in the seven-team league.

Oliver's hopes will likely rest with hurler R. Snider, next to Bowsfield, statistic-wise, Orioles will counter with power at the plate.

Other teams seeing action this Sunday will be Kamloops at Summerland; Princeton at Vernon, a double-header; Penticton gets a bye.

Next Wednesday Kelowna journeys to Penticton to challenge the Athletics. Oliver plays at Summerland the same night.

RIFLE SHOOT

Over 60 competitors from valley and coastal points took part in the annual shoot of the Rocky Mountain Rangers Rifle Association held at Kamloops on Sunday. Nine sharpshooters from Kelowna took part in the meet.

NEARS $1,000 MARK

Marge Crofton, who last year sold $1,129 in Kelowna Aquatic Club memberships, has reached the $1,000 mark so far this year.

Boxla war resumes tonight

"We'll trump those Aces tonight!" That's the battle-cry of the Kelowna Bruins as they prepare to take to the floor of Kelowna and District Memorial Arena at 9:00 p.m. against the visiting Salmon Arm Aces.

Bruins hope to register win No. 3, making it three successive home wins, two previous Thursdays having seen Kamloops Kilppers vanquished by the oncoming Kelowna squad.

The Ken Watt-coached Aces have won four games to date, two here and two home, but scores have been close all the way. In the initial game, Salmon Arm won 14-10. Another game on June 24 was also won by a close four-goal margin, while on the 28th in Salmon Arm, Aces came from behind to take a 7-6 decision. Bruins have led most of the way in these last two contests only to have the black-shirts win in the last quarter. Kelowna's five-man zone setup has baffled the Aces at times.

Scores of tourists attended last Thursday's game here.

EASY WINNER

PARIS, Ont.—Don Phillips of Paris was an easy winner of the three-hour "carp derby" held by the Paris hunters and conservation club. He hooked the only fish caught—a four-pounder measuring 22½ inches.

PRELIMINARY GAME

Tonight's Kelowna Bruins-Salmon Arm Aces lacrosse game will be preceded by a preliminary at 7:30 between two juvenile squads, Woodlawn vs. Kelowna. Main game is at 9:00 p.m.

HATS OF ALL SIZES

All sizes in Regatta headgear are now available at Regatta headquarters. Merchants desiring certain sizes may get them from this depot. A brisk sale to visitors is reported throughout the city.

Kelowna aquacade spectators get first glimpse of Canada's BEG diving team

Close to 3,000 spectators had their first glimpse of Canada's top-notch divers who will carry this country's colors in the British Empire Games scheduled for Vancouver later this month.

The quartet, all personal friends of Kelowna's diving doctor George Athans, arrived here Sunday and gave a dazzling exhibition of intricate and well-timed diving at Ogopogo Stadium Monday and Tuesday evenings. They returned to Vancouver yesterday to resume training for the Games which open at the coastal city July 30, but will be back for Kelowna's annual four-day water classic which opens August 11.

Canada's diving team consists of Miss Irene MacDonald, of Hamilton, women's Canadian three metre springboard champion; Bernard Valois, of Montreal, who specializes in both springboard and tower classes; Bill Patrick, of Calgary, Canadian men's diving champion, and Lois Wood, of Toronto, five metre Canadian women's diving champion. Dr. Athans, who leaves Kelowna July 20, has been appointed official coach to the BEG diving team.

PATRICK NO STRANGER

Patrick was no stranger to Kelowna and district water fans who witnessed the two-night performance. He has been a consistent competitor at the local regatta, and since Dr. Athans took up permanent residence in this city, the Calgary swimmer has learned the finer points of diving from the local physician.

Churning through the water in the opening ladies' free-style race were Linda Ghezzi, Henny Caljouw, Mary MacKenzie and Mary Hoover, with Linda finishing first. Guy Maxon won the boys' under fourteen freestyle, with John Ellison second and Bruce Moore third.

"Billie" MacKenzie's synchronized swimming duet of Joan McKinley and Betty Ann Lander thrilled the crowd with their first performance of the season.

BEG DIVERS

But the highlight of the evening was the BEG divers.

Bill Patrick's twist dives were sensational. From the springboard he did a double jackknife, a front 2½ somersault (pike), a back 1½ with a 1½ twist, and last but not least, a double twisting forward 1½. From the tower, he demonstrated a double twisting forward 1½, a handstand and double somersault, a forward 2½ pike and a back 1½ somersault with 1½ twist.

Bernard Valois, the Quebec champion showed just what it takes to make a champion with a flying 1½ somersault, a backward 1½ layout, a 1½ forward with full twist, and a 2½ forward pike. With no previous tower diving experience, he later did a flying 1½ forward and a half gainer layout from the 5 metre board.

Lois Wood's flying forward somersault from the springboard was a thing of beauty and she cut the water with scarcely a ripple. Later, from the ten metre tower, she demonstrated the front jackknife, the full gainer, a cutaway, and a forward 1½ somersault.

Irene MacDonald led off on the springboard with a front 1½ somersault from the pike position. Time and again the crowd roared its approval as she demonstrated a flying forward 1½, and from the 5 metre tower, a running 1½ front pike, a half gainer layout, and a flying front 1½ somersault.

VARIETY OF DIVES

A swan dive in perfect form by Dr. George Athans led off his display, and he followed this with a variety of dives including a back jackknife, a forward 2½ twist and a full twisting 1½ forward from the springboard, with a half gainer, a cutaway swan, and a full twisting 1½ forward from the 10 metre tower.

Sixteen-year-old Reba Gagnon, Dr. Athans' protegee, also gave a remarkably fine demonstration of diving.

APPLE BOX RACE

The hilarious event of the evening was a boys' apple box race, with six contestants urging their high-powered vehicles down the length of the pool. It looked as though one or two of these vessels had their engines pointing the wrong way. However, Bruce Moore swung his craft into the first place berth, with Guy Maxon a close second and Ian MacDonald in for the third slot. Rod Bennett decided his engineer needed a hand, and dived into the pool and pushed his craft to the finish line, to the cheers and laughter of the crowd. Other contestants were Lile Duncan and John Ellison.

The two accordion solos by John Sedlack of Rutland, the winner in the radio talent show held during the winter, rated a healthy round of applause.

Mary MacKenzie, Marie de Puyferrer, and Joan McKinley, breaststroked, Australian crawled and otherwise splashed their way to the finish line first in the girls medley relay race, with second place going to Linda Ghezzi, Mary Hoover and Alice de Puyferrer and Adele and Gail Parker, with Betty Egg, in the third slot.
